

AI Co-Founder Business Strategy Report

Affordable Dry Fruit Packaging Brand – India

Source: Customer & MVP Blueprint

Startup Summary

- Value-focused packaged dry fruit brand targeting middle/lower-middle income households.
- Solves high prices, adulteration, inconsistent quality and trust issues.
- Target: Families earning ₹20K–₹80K/month.
- Launch with Almonds & Cashews in 100g and 250g packs.
- Channels: WhatsApp, Amazon, Flipkart and Kirana.
- Positioning: Premium quality at affordable pricing.
- Success metric: >30% repeat purchase.

Business Reality Check

Who pays? Families, homemakers, professionals and gift buyers.

Why pay? Trust, hygiene, affordability and convenience.

Discovery: WhatsApp referrals, Kirana sampling, Amazon reviews and Instagram.

Biggest risks: Commodity positioning, CAC, repeat purchase, margin pressure.

Business Model Canvas

Block	Description
Customer	Value-conscious families
Value Proposition	Trusted affordable dry fruits
Channels	Kirana, Amazon, WhatsApp
Revenue	Product sales, family packs, hampers
Partners	Suppliers, logistics
Costs	Raw material, packaging, marketing

Revenue Strategy

- 100g ₹39–49 Trial
- 250g ₹89–99 Core
- 500g ₹169–189 Family
- Festive Hampers ₹299–399
- Future: Subscription & Corporate Gifting

Investment Scorecard

Metric	Score
Business Viability	82/100
Revenue Potential	84/100

GTM Strength	78/100
Competitive Strength	72/100
Investor Readiness	75/100
Overall	78/100

Founder Action Sheet

- Interview 100 customers
- Lock suppliers
- Launch WhatsApp Business
- Sell first 100 packs
- Measure repeat rate
- Track CAC
- Improve Amazon reviews
- Launch referral campaign

Sustainability Verdict

Verdict: ■ VALIDATE BEFORE SCALING. The business has strong recurring demand but must prove repeat purchase, maintain >35% gross margin and achieve efficient distribution before aggressive expansion.